

Please let the Wisconsin Do Not Call List stand as is, and as the priority. It's the only protection we have against telemarketers harassing us at all hours. The Federal list does not do enough to protect consumers from the "telephone spam", and actually should be revised to follow the Wisconsin version. We're bombarded constantly with advertising through print media, TV, radio, billboards, etc. At least let us control our telephones so we can be safe in our own homes from the disruptions of these sales vultures. Why should you legislate that they have the right to harass me by phone, If I state that I don't want to be bothered at home? It's bad enough at election time when the politicians call constantly. I'd like to see them blocked too.

Thank you
